For the past 32 years, David Enriquez has been producing accurate material and labor cost estimates for construction projects in the Rio Grande Valley ranging from $25,000 to multi-million dollar projects. He is involved with every project that comes through the firm. He keeps his hand on the pulse of local economic forces and stays in step with rising and falling labor and material prices. Mr. Enriquez takes the utmost care in providing accurate estimates to E-Con's clients so they are never caught off guard.

David also reviews project specifications early in the process to ensure any special order materials arrive in time so the team experiences no unexpected interruptions in the project schedule. He communicates with the manufacturers of specialty items to better inform the project team of the type of materials being used and the proper application process.
